

POLYTECHNICS INSTITUTE OF PORTALEGRE

A Quality Bet in Regional Development

Sport Facilities

The sport grounds at the Technology and Business Studies School and at the Students Hall of Residence (Assentos) can be used by teaching staff, students, other staff, and by the public.

Scholarships and Awards

The Polytechnics Institute of Portalegre offers Merit scholarships, annually. IPP also awards the best graduated student and the First Year best student, from each school.

Continental Portugal is situated at the far Southeast end of the Iberian Peninsula. The Northern and Eastern boundaries are with Spain. The Atlantic Ocean is on its West and South.

The Madeira and Azores archipelagos both situated in the Atlantic Ocean are also part of Portuguese territory.

Portugal has about 10,555,853 inhabitants. (2011 Census)

Portalegre, in the Alto Alentejo district, is situated at the southern slope of São Mamede mountain and has a total area of 446,24 Km<sup>2</sup> and about 24,930 inhabitants. (2011 Census)

The city of Elvas belongs to the District of Portalegre. It is situated 10 Km far from Badajoz, a spanish city of Extremadura, and has 23,078 inhabitants. (2011 Census)

The Northern Alentejo is known for its natural and landscape diversity, with well marked planes and relief.

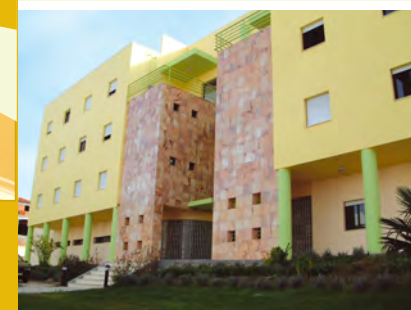

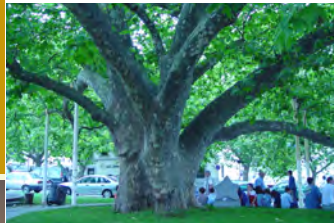

The Polytechnics Institute of Portalegre (IPP) is a public higher education institution that includes four schools:

- . Education School (ESE);
